

DEMOCRATS CLAIM NEBRASKA

And the National Committee Wants
Bryan to Run for the Senate

Chicago, Nov. 9.—W. J. Bryan sent a telegram this afternoon to the democratic headquarters, stating that the democratic national ticket had carried Nebraska by 2000.

The state ticket, the telegram said, had been successful by 4000.

"The next legislature will have a small democratic majority," added Mr. Bryan.

The members of the national committee have been communicated with from this city, and have decided to ask Mr. Bryan to go before the Nebraska legislature, in case it is surely democratic, as a candidate for the United States senate.

The consensus of opinion in the committee is that the democratic leader should occupy as prominent an official position as possible, in order that he may accomplish all that can be accomplished for the principles of the Kansas City platform.

It is not known whether or not Mr. Bryan will consent to make the race.

KENTUCKY MAY BE DEMOCRATIC

But the Republican Nominee is Elected Governor

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 9.—Kentucky's electoral vote may go to Bryan, but it will be by a very small majority. The democratic committee claims the state by 3000.

The election of Yerkes, republican, for governor, is practically conceded, however. He ran ahead of McKinley in the state, while Beckham ran behind Bryan.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS

Bridges and Ferries—Objections to an Inspector—Why Mc. is in the Soup

All members were present, though Mr. McLeod was a little tardy.

Messrs. Morrison and Hugh Ross, of Gaitor, appeared to make inquiries about the proposed new bridge across the Withlacoochee river at Stokes ferry and its probable location. It was thought the best place would be the old roadway. The matter of specifications was talked over and when the matter of the kind of lumber was disposed of, Mr. Long made a motion, the substance of which was that the board should ask for sealed bids for building the bridge according to specifications now in the clerk's office, namely: Those of the Dunnellon bridge, but the draw to be 30 instead of 20 feet and material to be of hued heart cypress, same to be approved at the next meeting of the board.

Chairman Allen was authorized to prepare plans and specifications.

E. W. McDonald, of the Grahamville precinct, appeared in opposition to a pay ferry at Grahamville. He thought the people of the county were entitled to it when they go to the county seat on business. Another reason, purely personal, was because he was a mail route contractor and a free ferry meant much to him. He complained of the delay of the Moss Bluff ferry, because of the illness of Mr. White, the ferryman, and Mrs. White and her little boy had to run it. These delays would cause him to be fined if he did not get his mail at Weir Park and Lynne on time.

Captain J. A. McDavid appeared in the interest of the new road from Fellowship church to Martel. It was granted on the usual petition. The commissioners to mark out the road and open the same were J. A. McDavid, R. W. Ferguson and Thomas Griggs.

The matter of repairing the floors of the jail and painting the iron work was gone into fully. Sheriff Nugent was consulted and he approved of it, and the work will be done under his and Mr. McLeod's supervision.

Tullius Biggs' bill for stenographic work in the murder cases in the late court, amounting to some $75, was at first turned down, but later the board reconsidered and the bill was approved and ordered paid. At first the contention was no law to pay such bills, though Mr. Allen was free to say it was economy to have this work done.

Summons were served on the board for a $90 damage suit, the result of S. F. Rou, Jr., of Lowell, who at night drove into a washout bridge west of Flemington which the road man had not had time to repair. He presented a bill several meetings ago for $39. The board allowed $25 of it, hence the suit. The county attorney was ordered to make proper defence.

in a dangerous condition. Ned Williamson said it was all a man's life was worth to cross it. Commissioner Morgan was authorized to have it repaired at once.

Afternoon Session

Judge Hocker, D. S. Williams and R. L. Anderson appeared to ask the board to provide for the meeting of the United States court in January, 1900. The board indicated it was willing to assume half of the expense if Ocala would assume the other half. Messrs. Williams and Anderson very kindly went out to secure suitable rooms for the judges office and that of the U. S. clerk and marshal and ascertain rent of the same. A committee will be named to consult with the city council.

Mr. Long read Allen Rodgers' road report for October, showing the Ocala and Silver Springs road was finished. The total cost of the same, for six miles, was $4,713.82, or $785.63 2-3 a mile, and is the finest piece of work of its kind in the state.

Injunction Withdrawn

Mr. Long reported that H. L. Anderson had withdrawn his injunction preventing Captain Maxwell from paving seventy yards at the Springs, but that Mr. Long had written Captain Maxwell to go ahead and do the work and had not heard from him.

Treasurer Griffin's accounts were checked up and found all right.

The road account was then taken up from the respective districts and audited. McIntosh, 197.88; Summerfield, $68.35; Cotton Plan, $69.35; Grahamville, $196.40.

Voters at Sparr and Anthony say the reason McLeod's name is "Dennis" is because he was too busy building hard road to Kendrick and Martin to listen to their cry, which only asked that the limbs on the trees along the public highways be kept trimmed so that a buggy or carriage could pass without having its top torn off. They asked for no hard road.

George Pasteur and Mr. Bassett, two of the prominent citizens and stock men near Anthony, appeared before the board and objected that the inspector of marks and brands of the Grahamville precinct, Joe Golsby, should be associated with his brother in the butcher business. It appears they are extensive butchers, supplying the Grahamville, Daisy and Anthony markets with beef, killing seven head a week, while supplying Jacksonville and Ocala with twenty-five head of beef cattle per week.

On motion of Mr. Long, Joe Golsby, inspector of marks and brands, was suspended from his office and requested to appear before the board at its next meeting to explain.

M. L. Payne appeared in regard to the closing of an old public road near his place and changing it several chains from its present location, as recent surveys have discredited the old section line. He was requested to get the usual petition signed by a dozen freeholders, against which he argued eloquently and long and insisted the board when assured of all facts could vacate the old road. They demurred and said the law did not grant any such power. Mr. Payne said he supposed he would have to get up the petition, but was too busy for such work.
